

MEDREX 2024

Medical Readiness Exercise

SENEGAL
Vermont Army National Guard

GHANA
North Dakota National Guard & U.S. Army Medical Command

ANGOLA
807th Medical Command (Deployment Support), U.S. Army Reserve

SOUTH AFRICA
New York Army National Guard and Army Reserve Medical Command

CHAD
3rd Medical Command (Deployment Support), US Army Reserve

RWANDA
Nebraska National Guard

BURUNDI
44th Medical Brigade, U.S. Army Fort Liberty
30th Medical Brigade, 21st Theater Sustainment Command

11 Supporting Units | 7 Countries | 20 Medical Specialities

Medical readiness exercise (MEDREX) is a cost-efficient program, led by U.S. Army Southern European Task Force, Africa (SETAF-AF), that enhances combined and joint force readiness, improves treatment capabilities for U.S. and partner forces, and builds and sustains relationships between the U.S. and African partner nations.

MEDREX 2017-2023

Senegal, Chad, Ghana,
Cameroon, Gabon
1,531 Patient Encounters

39,968
Patient Encounters

Senegal, Chad, Ghana,
Cameroon, Rwanda
2,530 Patient Encounters

$700,000
Medical Maintenance

Senegal, Chad, Ghana,
Rwanda, Morocco, Ethiopia
7,630 Patient Encounters

4,626
Emergency Room
Patients

Planned, not executed
due to COVID-19

395

OBGYN Surgeries

Senegal, Morocco,
South Africa, Rwanda
6,758 Patient Encounters

5,700

Vet Encounters

Senegal, Morocco,
South Africa, Ghana
15,122 Patient Encounters

273

Orthopedic
Surgeries

Angola, Burundi, Ghana,
Senegal, Chad, Morocco,
Rwanda
6,397 Patient Encounters

$92,000
Medical Supplies

